

Newcastle Family and Sports Podiatry practice interior refurbishment was commissioned to modify portions of the existing premises located on Denison Street, Hamilton.

The fit out included a new reception counter, entry and waiting area, six medical consultancy rooms, staff room, kitchen and new joinery, IT services, furniture, fittings, and finishes in the main corridor.

The refurbishment of the existing practice has been designed to provide the practice with a modern look which is comfortable for children, parents and the elderly.

Webber Architects provided design and management services throughout the project - from conceptual design to tendering, material selection, and contract administration.

Given the tight project program and construction stage of only one week, most of the installations were prefabricated and transported to site to be installed quickly.
